PETITIONERS SPEED CAMPAIGN TO KILL MAJOR ANNEXATION

Planning Commission Approves First Unit Of Callan Park Homes

Daly City's Planning Commission last Wednesday evening unanimously (4-0) approved the tentative map of Callan Park Unit 1—a 639-homes beginning to the 870-acre tract, annexed by 4-1 vote of the City Council two nights earlier.

Both Daly City school districts were represented at the meeting last week. Supt. Edward Morgan, high school district, asked the planners to "proceed with caution" in approving sections of Callan Park so that school needs would be clearly provided for and mapped in a preferred master plan for the development.

Supt. Richard Foster of Jefferson Elementary District was instructed by his board to tell the planners that the JESD had no objection to Unit 1 as mapped, but that the next increment of homes, some 200, would cover an area where school district engineers feel the first of five needed elementary sites will be necessary.

Builder Tom Callan Jr. of the Caesar-Callan partnership for the multi-million-dollar development running south between Junipero Serra and Skyline to northern San Bruno, commented that his firm intends to soon submit a master plan for school sites and would work with the school districts involved.

The entire Callan Park acreage presently falls in the jurisdiction of the South San Francisco Unified School District. South San Francisco city and school leaders oppose the inclusion of this Daly City property in their school district and Daly City school officials think that redistricting to Daly City is inevitable; therefore school sites must be ascertained and guaranteed now by the developers.

Unit 1 of Callan Park, as mapped for the planning commission and now in the hands of City Engineer Bill Chapman for study, will lie east of the Sharp Park road-Skyline boulevard junction. No school, park or municipal facility sites are included in the map submitted by the builders.

Foster said the second unit of the Callan development is for 200 homes and this area would require a school site that already has been approximated by district engineers.

County Engineer Don Wilson also inquired of the planners about the Callan Park initial

CALLAN PARK ANNEXED BY SEWER BOARD

Callan Park was annexed to the jurisdiction of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District in Monday's meeting at the Westlake headquarters building.

Sanitation director Tom Callan Sr., county supervisor whose sons envision a multi-million dollar development from the huge property annexed to Daly City last week, expectedly abstained when Chairman Bob St. Clair and Mayor Frank Pacelli voted the territory into the sanitation district.

The three directors reviewed the tentative map of Callan Park's Unit 1, all homes, to be located east of Skyline and Sharp Park road. This map was approved by the city planning commission last week, two days after the tract was annexed by council action.

St. Clair reported the sanitation board has hired engineer Harry N. Jenks to survey all the undeveloped areas south and adjacent to Daly City to determine the district's needs and expansion projections.

The directors earlier revealed proposals for a second district plant, situated near Mussel Rock north of Pacifica, which could service all new housing and commercial areas, particularly the Doelger, McKeon, Callan and the Christen properties. The vast Christen farm lands are expected to follow Callan Park as another enormous annexation sought by Daly City's builders. This latter annexation request may not materialize for at least two years, however, since Christen has indicated he is not interested in selling his property at this time.

SIGNATURES SOLICITED

Vote By Citizens At Large Goal Of Group Protesting City Verdict

Approximately 50 Daly City residents Saturday began circulating petitions to muster enough signatures to put the swift annexation of "Callan Park" to a vote of the people.

The group organized to fight the giant annexation calls itself the "Citizens Committee for Better Government," with Palisades resident Fred J. Walker, a syndicated newspaper editor, as its spokesman.

Walker said his growing group is opposed to the annexation because "the tract includes no provisions for industry, and we feel that more residential development here without some industry is not beneficial to Daly City taxpayers at large."

Builder Tom Callan Jr. commented that his firm "doesn't know who is actually behind the annexation protest, but I don't think outsiders should be allowed to determine Daly City governmental policies."

Outgoing Mayor Edward Dennis stated that he still thinks "the annexation is a beneficial move for Daly City."

The City Council Monday night last week by 4-1 vote swept the massive tract (south of St. Francis Heights and running to the San Bruno line) into Daly City jurisdiction via two ordinances. One was a regular ordinance for annexation, effective after 30 days, while the second was labeled an "emergency" ordinance, allegedly to give Daly City immediate control of the area, purportedly for a stronger position on freeway routings.

Walker said his group intends to battle the emergency ordinance in court "because we believe there was or is no such emergency to substantiate such action."

The petition drive, he said, in order to be successful, requires that 10 percent of Daly City's registered voters must ink their signatures asking the council to put the annexation decision to a referendum. Deadline for the petitioners is 30 days after the April 11 council verdict for the annexation ordinance. This means during the second week of May. About 1700 signatures out of Daly City's 16,272 registered voters will be necessary to effect the referendum request.

Walker explained that the majority of petition bearers "are Daly City voters—citizens who are concerned about taxes and fear the consequences of this annexation as far as tax increases and the effect on present services are concerned."

A San Francisco firm, however, has recruited petition circulators to assist the Daly City group.

Walker pointed out that the protesting group is confident it will obtain enough signatures to legally ask the city council to call for a referendum. He stressed that should the council "sit on the issue, then, by law, the annexation ordinance would be nullified."

A majority vote decides a referendum issue.

Walker, who has resided at 255 Palisades drive the past 14 months, shares temporary leadership of the petitioners with his son, James B. Walker, who lives at 184 Edgemont drive in Westlake. The younger Walker owns a service station in San Francisco.

The City Council's next regular meeting is, Monday night, April 25, at City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue, starting at 8 o'clock.

AUTO WASH FIRM HAS $450 TAKEN IN NIGHT RAID

Thieves took more time than usually allotted to ransack the Westlake 5 Minute Auto Wash, 2075 Junipero Serra boulevard, between Sunday afternoon and Monday morning, and cleaned the office of $450 in change.

Police were questioning two suspects Wednesday morning, John Isidoreo Fabela, 26, 1128 Geneva avenue, San Francisco, a seaman and teamster, and Ruben Melton Tafoya, 30, 55 Capp street, San Francisco, a laborer.

The two men were detained when they were found by San Francisco police with a bank money bag. Officer McCann of the Mission station asked Daly City police if they had any knowledge of the bag.

Officer David Johnstone and Inspector George Brooks brought the men here when co-owner Mrs. Ruth Papkin identified the money bag. She could not identify the men in a line-up. The auto wash was closed at the time of the burglary.

Mrs. Papkin said the $450 contained in the bag was all in change and a few dollar bills, and was so heavy she couldn't carry it herself. When apprehended the men had but $28.45 in coin left inside.

Hupf To Monterey

City Attorney Paul Hupf of Daly City is expected to be absent from Monday evening's regular City Council meeting.

He'll be in Monterey attending a two-day meeting of the California Bar Association. Hupf is assigned to a seminar on subdivision and annexation agreements.

Elementary Schools Draft Two Budgets, Expect Tax Boost

Jefferson Elementary District may raise the tax rate by 46 cents this coming year, due to the city's recent annexation of the Callan Park tract, it was learned at Monday night's board meeting.

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District will get a chance to peruse two tax increases.

The board asked the administration to figure out two tables, one at a rate of $2.20 and the other at $2.50 with both excluding a 14 cent penalty assessment rate. Because of San Mateo County's assessment practice the total cost could come to either $2.34 or $2.64.

Trustees will make the final choice on the tax rate when the budget is adopted during current rate is $2.18 so the maximum raise would bring an additional 46 cents from each each taxpayer.

Trustee Tom Noonan received full support from his four fellow board members who rescinded a July 1958 policy setting the tax rate at a maximum of $2.20 up until 1961.

Noonan stated that "recent developments have upset this figure." He claims, and other members agreed, that the Callan Park tract would put an additional burden on the elementary district if it were transferred from the South San Francisco district. "Large developments detract from the services and offerings that the district may give and the only way to meet the expansion is by doing away with the 1958 policy," he noted.

26 Write-In Candidates For Daly City

Daly City's municipal election last week produced 26 write-in candidates, City Clerk Evelyn Mosman today reported in re-checking the tallies.

There were 16 write-ins for city council, six for city clerk and four for treasurer.

Of the council write-ins, five votes were cast for former councilman Sanford Vickers and the same number for D. Schwimmer, a Westlake resident. Another city council candidate of several years back, Sam Grado, got four write-in tallies. Westlake housewife Elsie Garrison also had four votes among the council ballots.

The city treasurer write-ins included Eric "Big Daddy" Nord and Bunny Breckenridge.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY

Daly City's second regular city council meeting for the month of April will be held next Monday evening, 8 o'clock, at 75 Wellington avenue.

This Thursday's study session was called off due to the North County Council of Cities meeting here at Val's Redwood Room.

East-side Annexation Talks Again?

Standard Builders, contemplating a 100-acre subdivision in the Crocker hills northeast of Daly City, again will meet with the City Council next week to renew annexation talks that fizzled four months ago.

It was learned last week that the developers now have plans for a sizeable shopping center in the residential, hillside tract, and one spokesman believes Daly City officials might reconsider the annexation request.

A Standard representative last week was told by Mayor Edward Dennis that the council "will be glad to hold further discussions."

Boat Victim Returns Home

Fifteen-year-old John Fanucchi, the Jefferson High sophomore whose leg was amputated following a boat accident last month, will be out of the hospital and back at his 451 Hillside boulevard home this Thursday, his mother informed the newspaper.

Mrs. Manucchi said doctors expect John to be walking again with an artificial lower left leg within six weeks.

"He is feeling good and his attitude is wonderful," added his mother.

Pacelli New Mayor By Unanimous Vote

Consistent with the City Council's policy of rotating the job every 12 months, Daly City had a new mayor Tuesday night—39-year-old Frank Pacelli, first appointed in 1957 and re-elected last week.

A Westlake resident five years at 117 Windsor drive, Pacelli and his wife, Claire, have five children.

Born in San Francisco, Pacelli attended Mission High School there, and is a graduate of University of San Francisco.

Tuesday night's inauguration ceremonies, attended by an unexpectedly small audience, also featured oaths of office taken by re-elected Councilman Joseph Verducci, 118 Wilshire avenue, and new city treasurer, Joseph Lewkowitz, 501 Vista Grande avenue, who also is chairman of the elementary school district board of trustees.

Outgoing Mayor Edward Dennis nominated Pacelli to succeed him and the action was unanimous. Councilman Bob St. Clair then was appointed assistant mayor by the same tally.

Dennis declared his year as mayor "wasn't easy because of many tough problems that faced the council."

Pacelli agreed, praising Dennis for "doing a good job despite the many difficulties," then the new mayor asserted, "it behooves the council to unite to meet the challenges."

Pacelli termed the city's staff "competent and our goals can be met if we work together."

Verducci, embarking on his third four-year term, conceded that Dennis encountered many problems as mayor and declared that "we are going to have the same problems because of the community's rapid growth."

Lewkowitz, who had no less than 12 members of his immediate family on hand, said "I will do the best job I can for the city of Daly City."

Dennis swore in veteran City Clerk Evelyn Mosman who was unopposed in last week's balloting.

The council unanimously voted a commendation for Selmi, who held the treasurer's post 12 years and before that was on the city council and

Tentative JUHSD Tax Rate Shows 14-Cent Climb

Superintendent Ed Morgan of the Jefferson Union High School District said this year's tax rate may be 14 cents higher than last years with an increase of $360,000 in the certificated salaries section of the budget.

Morgan noted that last year's tax rate was $1.78 while figures have, thus far, been computed for $1.92. The difference here is in the assessment penalty of five cents because of San Mateo County's rating and also the bond and interest redemption program which adds nine cents via State control.

The jump from $1,125,568, last year's certificated salary total, to next year's estimated $1,485,510 is a difference of $360,000. Morgan said the extra monies would be expended for the hiring of 44 new personnel, 40 of whom are teachers.

Juveniles Find 'Easy Way' To Get Money Hard

Two San Francisco youths, 12 and 14-years-old, were soliciting newspaper subscriptions Monday night when they noticed an open window and decided that money would be easier to get if they went inside the empty house.

Mrs. Dorothy Bushong, 37, 91 Lake Vista avenue, Westlake, and her daughter Linda, 14, had left the house at 4:45 p.m. and returned a scant 25 minutes later. They heard noises coming from one of the bedrooms. They boys also heard the occupants return and fled through rear yards of neighboring houses.

The seventh and eighth graders, at James Lick Junior High School in San Francisco, were found hiding at North Mayfair avenue and Belmont drive by Officer Steve Steen. Steen marched the pair back to the scene where neighbors identified them as trying to sell newspaper subscriptions.

Steen matched their shoes with footprints found in soft dirt at the rear of the Bushong's home and said they were "very similar." Then the boys admitted the theft.

The youths, both neighbors of the Bushong's, said they found an open window and entered in the hopes of "finding" money. They went through a number of drawers at the house. They boys were cited to Hillcrest Detention Home and released in custody of their parents.

PLANNING COMMISSION

stages. He recommends that the proposed Callan boulevard, the major east-west Junipero Serra to Skyline arterial through the big tract, should be 90 feet in width instead of Callan's proposed 70-foot intention. Wilson additionally asked that a copy of Callan's Unit I map be forwarded to the Division of Highways to expedite freeway projections, particularly the intended interchange at Sharp Park road and Skyline.

Outside of the letters from Wilson and Morgan, and Foster's verbal presentation, no other persons asked to be heard on the issue before the planners. Attorney John Schaeffer was the only commissioner absent.

Foster today said north county school officials, considerably concerned about Callan Park's total effects in taxes and the present education programs, would meet May 24 with the San Mateo County School Redistricting Committee in San Bruno to discuss the Callan Park predicament. An earlier session may be called, it was later learned.

The planners reviewed letters from the Division of Highways on freeway routes recommended through Daly City. The State Highway Commission may take final action on these routes next week.

In regular agenda business, two applications were denied by the commission. Lake Merced Lodge motel, 2253 Junipero Serra, was denied a use permit for the addition of 10 units at the rear of the property because the State Division of Highways, in a letter to the city, said the freeway would be routed in this area.

A petition filed by Mary Giacchino, 148 Station avenue, to rezone four lots from R-1 to C-1 (commercial) at 148 Station, 123 Station and 24 Werner street was turned down. Three neighborhood residents protested. The commissioners held this would constitute "spot" zoning in denying the rezoning.

In other action, the planners:

1. Set May 10 hearing on use permit application of Val Connolly, for re-installation of signs on roof of restaurant-lounge, 89th street and Junipero Serra, to new location in front of property on new sign pole structure at southwest corner of 89th and Junipero Serra.

2. Approved use permit application of Shell Company for rotating plastic sign at Eastmoor and Sullivan avenues, subject to approval by State Highway Division.

3. Granted use permit to Rayco Seat Covers to conduct automotive retail sales business on the east side of Junipero Serra north of Citrus on five lots. Also okayed neon sign for this business and a parking area to be located in rear of property on Southern Pacific right-of-way.

4. Granted use permit to Percy McNutt, Menlo Park, for erection of a two-bedroom triplex and attached garages at three lots located east of Santa Barbara avenue between Los Banos and Knowles avenues.

5. Okayed C-2 zone on seven lots of newly annexed Fuchs-Olcese property, Schoolhouse Homestead Association, filed by Henry Fuchs, 1670 Bryant street, and Angelo Olcese, 187 Mateo avenue.

6. Approved establishment of I district (industrial) as requested by PG&E and Ralph and Katherine McGill, San Francisco, on property at northeasterly end of Market street which was recently abandoned.

7. Held over petition filed by Richard Ragni, 134 Acton street, to rezone two lots at 156 and 168 Westlake avenue, from R-1 to R-3 (apartments). There are two citizen protests against this rezoning.

Bike Rider Has Fractured Leg After Collision

Danny Sampino, 10 years old, 67 Wilson street, was transported to Junipero Serra Hospital Friday at 5:10 p.m. following a collision of his bicycle and an auto at Mission street near Flournoy street.

Sampino suffered a fractured leg and was brought to the hospital by M&D Ambulance. Officer Richard deLosa said the bicycle either skidded and hit the auto or the brakes were not in proper working order.

WHO IS THAT KNOCKING AT MY DOOR—?

Daly City's firemen are still going door-to-door (when they have a few spare minutes) selling tickets to their 27th annual Widows and Orphans Association benefit dance, scheduled Saturday, May 14, at War Memorial Community Center, Mission and Alp streets.

Chief Elmer Kennedy, who has attended all the annual affairs, reminds that there are plenty of tickets to this worthwhile event. In fact, 10,000 ducats are on sale.

Of course, 10,000 folks can't crowd into War Memorial building, but this year's event should be the best ever presented for Daly City residents.

5 BIDS ON NEW SCHOOL 'TOO HIGH'

Jefferson Elementary District trustees threw out five construction bids Monday evening for the M. Pauline Brown K-6 school, to be located on Eastmoor avenue in front of St. Francis Heights, when all bidders exceeded the state allowable maximums.

The closest was contractor Peter Sartorio whose base bid of $410,000 was $30,000 above the state allowable maximum. Other bidders had lower base bids but totals for work were much higher. Superintendent Richard Foster said he would meet with the architect to see what arrangements could be made.

The district will again call for bids for the school which has been allotted $490,426 for building and $30,135 for equipment and furnishings by the state allocations board.

DC Police Recover Eureka Officer's Miniature Badge

It was missing a year, but Daly City police helped a Eureka Officer recover a miniature badge he had lost.

Officer John Van Otten found the star in a reported abandoned auto at Bellevue avenue and Acton streets Friday morning. Van Otten confronted Ronald J. Pereira, 18, 451 Bellevue avenue, with the star and asked how it got in the glove compartment of the auto registered to him.

Pereira said it was given to him by a friend named "Ron." Pereira said he had used the star as a 'joke' to fool his friends during the past week.

Sergeant Jack Walsh sent a teletype message to Eureka Chief of Police C. Emahiser asking the status of the badge. Emahiser said the badge was a miniature one owned by a traffic Officer Mora. Mora had lost it more than a year ago but assumed it "was around the house."

The badge was sent back to its owner and no charges pressed against Pereira.

'USE COMMON SENSE'

Police Chief Advises Drivers To Take Defensive Attitude

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi has issued an appeal to all Daly City area motorists, asking them to examine their personal driving habits, and stressing a "defensive attitude."

Most accidents, the chief points out, follow lapses of attention to the actual process of driving. Few accidents can properly be labeled "accidental," and the majority involve mutual error on the part of two or more drivers, even though only one party may be legally responsible.

A dangerous practice of the so-called "good driver" is to narrow the distance between his vehicle, other cars in front, and those approaching at right angles. He is then forced to depend on reflexes that may be dulled because of fatigue or tension, and he resorts to the use of his brakes at the last instant. And if another driver is equally careless, an "accident" often results. Petrocchi said this problem is magnified on arterials such as Mission, Junipero Serra, Knowles avenue, Southgate and other heavily traveled streets.

Forty-eight percent of Daly City's accidents occur on the state highways, where movement of traffic is fast and congestion a problem. Many motorists, concentrating on matters other than driving, fail to realize that following too close is proportionately much more dangerous at 35 miles per hour than at 25.

Most professional drivers and all "defensive drivers" have trained themselves to think about the actual physical process of steering correctly, maintaining safe stopping distances, and observing common courtesy. Some drivers, who are ordinarily courteous and respectful of the rights of others when on foot, suddenly become rude and aggressive when they take the wheel.

The police department's records reveal several high rate accident locations, and Petrocchi offered this advice for staying out of trouble: When approaching the Westlake Shopping center, westbound on Alemany, maintain a safe stopping distance behind cars front and be alert for eastbound vehicles turning left onto Sheffield.

On Mission street, watch for cars starting out onto the highway from side streets and maintain safe distances behind vehicles in front. Don't drive onto Mission street or any other arterial if you have to force a car to yield in order for you to enter.

While waiting at a traffic signal (such as Alemany at Dorchester and Eastgate, and at other locations without a left turn phase), do not turn left suddenly in front of oncoming traffic when the light turns green. This is a violation of right-of-way and will be cited whenever observed, the chief warned. Some courts have held that drivers wanting to turn left must yield to the first four approaching vehicles, but then should be granted right-of-way by the fifth.

Almost all of Daly City's residential intersections are "blind," which means that a motorist within 100 feet of an uncontrolled intersection is unable to see 100 feet of the cross street in either direction. The state speed limit for all such intersections is 15 miles an hour. A great many accidents in Daly City have been caused by thoughtless violation of this common-sense law. Because vehicles generally strike each other broadside in this type of collision, passengers are more vulnerable to injury.

Petrocchi urges all drivers to try the defensive technique, which he said becomes second nature with a moderate amount of practice.

San Mateo County's Easter Seal Sales Reach Half Of Quota

Vincent Murphy, Chairman of the Easter Seal sale in Daly City today announced that the drive for funds will continue throughout the city in a strong effort to reach the county quota of $50,000.

At the Rehabilitation Center, children with cleft palates are among those receiving speech therapy, after surgery, learning to speak more naturally. Many outstanding examples of success in this field are developed at the center.

Among others being treated are adults who have suffered strokes and are given rehabilitation therapy at the center through programs developed by referring physicians, medical directors and therapists.

Letters To The Editor

Parents Of Injured Boy Say Thanks

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Just a few lines to thank you for the front page article in your last week's edition about our boy, Johnny.

It cheered him up a lot even though the picture of him was one taken a few years ago. He commented on the fact that our Continental Chris-craft was referred to as a "fishing boat"—but nevertheless the article did Johnny a lot of good.

He is improving rapidly and his doctor says he will be walking in six weeks. His morale is very good and he is even able to joke about his artificial leg. He can have visitors now.

The last month has been a rough one on us all, but now that we can see that Johnny is going to be okay, we are very happy.

Thanks again for your part in helping him along.

Yours very truly,
Mr. & Mrs.

'Formidable Problems Face City'

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

The people have spoken — the die has been cast. The Daly City election is behind us and in some ways it is best that it be forgotten.

During the heat of a political campaign, many things are said and done with little "rhyme or reason" be that as it may for that is a part of our good old American political "bally hoo."

Even though the election is over many formidable City problems, some old, some new, are with us and will be for some time to come. It shall behoove the City Council to immediately "knuckle down" to the problems at hand and work to their prompt resolutions for the short as well as the long range best interests of our City.

Every Daly City Citizen should pledge their support and offer their assistance in any and in all ways that are needed to get the job done as quickly and with the least "pain" possible.

AROUND TOWN

By ROY HURLBERT

THREE South City Council incumbents were re-elected in a campaign that found Emilio Cortesi campaigning independently against high vote Guido Rozzi and third placer Leo J. Ryan.

Cortesi bombed his fellow incumbents and made the race hotter than expected. He came in second.

Daly City's victorious incumbents, Frank Pacelli and Joe Verducci, likewise were split into different camps. This difference actually gave third candidate Del Wilson more votes than anyone expected.

In unity there is strength, the proverb has it.

THE petition drive for a vote of Daly City residents on the enormous Callan Park tract figures to be a sizzling issue.

A few years back when Westlake was up for annexation, the city council put the decision to a referendum vote. There were considerably more "yes" votes than "no" responses.

THE extremely huge Christen dairy ranch property, east and adjacent to Callan's proposed colossus, is expected to go to the highest bidding builder in about three years.

If this Christen acreage also comes into Daly City, this town will be far in front of its sister Peninsula cities for population—say 10 years hence.

●

PRESENT policy of Daly City's council is to rotate the mayor's job each year. Following Pacelli, the gent next in line for the chairmanship will be Bob St. Clair.

One thing can be said for St. Clair, among others: He's the biggest man ever to occupy a seat at City Hall. Two hundred and sixty pounds during the off season. And he has to watch his diet!

●

Simple. The folks who live in this unincorporated area figure its cheaper tax-wise to be unaffiliated.

BANKER Lou Pisani, boss of the top of the hill money factory, returned from a vacation at Salton Sea (south of Palm Springs and really booming) to find that he's ticketed for municipal court jury duty.

Unless Lou is excused by presidential decree (S. Clark Beise), someone else will have to watch the store. And the keys to the vault.

●

St. Francis Heights parents have an experienced man watching their flocks as principal of Daniel Webster Elementary School (opening next Monday).

Former district superintendent (for eight years) Henry Z. Weibel is at the helm of the El Dorado drive school.

An office visitor last week was elementary district's Hazel Colwell, teaching vice principal of Vista Grande Primary. She was checking on the delivery of the paper, noting that while she was vacationing in the South Pacific last summer THE RECORD arrived Down Under regularly. Probably by banana boat.

Fund-shortages being what they are for PAL activities, the top job involves many headaches. Coleman helped to launch the youth organization here and he, like Bastedo, who also directs PAL's baseball teams, have devoted long hours to the cause.

Financing is PAL's key problem and the end is not in sight.

Adriano Delfino, long-time public relationist for Broadmoor and Holy Angels Men's Club, recently was presented a Peninsula award for outstanding service as a publicist. Having seen Adriano's press clippings, we know the acclaim is well deserved.

●

Bob Keropian, director of South City's Adult School and a high school science instructor, has fallen heir to the "ultimate" in scholarships.

He'll get an expense-paid, six-weeks jet trip to Hawaii to further his scientific knowledge. Sorry, no additional volunteers are needed for this venture!

Optimists, DC Police Share Bike Project

Members of the Lake Merced Optimists Club and Daly City policemen this week are conducting bicycle registrations at Daly City's schools. Students have been notified in advance when to bring their bikes.

Sgt. Henry Sundermann, city traffic inspector, said 1731 bikes are used by Daly City school children. The registration fee, only 50 cents, is good for the duration of the bike's use.

Each Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., bikes can be registered at Daly City Police headquarters, City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue, just off Mission street.

Project chairman for the Optimist Club is Walt Brodie, Westlake insurance agent. Special bike safety stickers will be given by the Optimists to all youngsters who register this week.

THREE LOCAL BOYS GET AWARDS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

A question period, informal discussion, and refreshments will follow. The public is invited to attend.

The School of Liberal Religious Education meets at the same place on Sunday mornings at 10:30 a.m. Interested parents may call Mrs. John Gianopoulos. For information about the Society phone Mrs. Jean Stenmark.

George Demetrius

"Man of the Year"

Occidental Life's Westlake Branch

We are happy to announce the selection of George Demetrius as Man of the Year here in Occidental Life's Westlake branch office. Leading the office in total sales, George provided residents of his community with more than $1,000,000 of life insurance protection during 1959, a truly remarkable accomplishment for a young man in his first year in the life insurance business.

George was born and educated in Chicago, is a graduate of Bradley University, and served for two years in the Marine Corps during the Korean hostilities. He was in business in the San Francisco area for more than five years before joining our office in January last year.

We are proud to be associated with a man of the competence and dedication of George Demetrius, and we're sure that his friends and clients will want to join us in congratulating him on his splendid record.

Sincerely

Westlake Cancer Drive Workers Busy With Week-Long Appeal

The American Cancer's Society drive in Westlake runs from April 18 to 25, the days set aside for door-to-door appeals in the area.

Daly City and other cities in San Mateo County's branch of the American Cancer Society do not participate in any of the funds contributed to the United Crusade, thus making it necessary to carry on an individual campaign. A wide effort is being undertaken as it has been definitely established that cancer can be cured, and all concerned must be alerted to the danger signals.

Funds are needed to speed up and cary out the program of education, service, and research. Cancer Crusade dollars go to work at once to save lives. Dollars also bring life-saving knowledge into the homes, offices, schools, and factories; keep doctors up-to-date in the new cancer diagnosis and treatment techniques, and support a nation-wide program of research being conducted by more than 1000 scientists in hospitals, laboratories and universities training others to fight this number two killer.

To accomplish the goal for 1960, full support of this crusade is urgent. Cancer drive volunteers, identified by red, white, and blue tags, are distributing pamphlets about cancer and its symptons it's life-saving information, and all donations help the campaign.

The Westlake Crusade is under the direction of Mrs. Edward Ward, Mrs. Jerome Jacobs, and Mrs. Samuel Stein, assisted by Captains Virginia Hamblin, Mrs. George Rossi, Harold Bucchianeri, Marilyn Silver, Alde Della Santa, Jane Cuitanich, Lorraine Shubanka, Donald Vercelli, and John Anderson.

More "Crusaders" are urgently needed. For information, please call PL 6-5476, PL 6-0269, or PL 5-0355.

Vet Pension Law Effective July 1

Full information concerning the new pension law that goes into effect July 1 may be obtained by veterans and their families at any office of the Veterans Administration, according to J. Glenn Corbitt, Regional VA Manager for the San Francisco area.

All veterans and dependents on the pension rolls under the present law may choose instead to come under provisions of the new pension law. A pamphlet comparing the two laws has already been sent to these pension recipients.

However, should any question remain, Corbitt said, the staff of the VA Office at 49 Fourth street, San Francisco, is prepared to explain any part of either bill. Selection of the new pension law provisions may be made at any time.

However, the choice is final and the pension recipient can never return to provisions of the present pension law.

While VA officials will be glad to furnish information, Corbitt pointed out that the final decision has to be made by the pensioner. For this reason, he urges that pensioners obtain all the information necessary for their decision.

Using Conduit For Wiring Is Practical

A new dimension of safety and value is added to any home by the use of conduit to enclose electrical wiring, according to the Electrical Construction Industry of San Mateo County.

The ECI stresses that conduit also offers long-range economies for every household:

Its cost can be amortized over the period of the home loan or home improvement loan.

$1,000—many times the cost—is added to the value of the average home. This is cash value that can be collected at the time of re-sale.

Money is saved as the home is enlarged or new electrical uses are added. With conduit in place, expensive rewiring is not necessary. Wires of greater capacity are easily inserted into the conduit in place of the old wires.

Pointing out that conduit is required by law in apartments and all buildings where people congregate, the ECI answers the question: Why is conduit safer than conventional wiring?

Conduit is a metal pipe or tube. It completely encloses all wires carrying electrical energy. Wiring is protected from moisture, deterioration and accidental blows. It is inaccessible to children and pets. The system is always perfectly grounded.

SSF Woman Is Cited For Church Service

Mrs. Floyd Hicks was recently awarded a special recognition at a Sunday Service by the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of Daly City and the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Coming as a complete surprise to her, she was conferred the title, "Associate in Christian Education," together with a gold pin and a certificate in recognition of this honor. This award was presented on behalf of the Session of the local church by Hal Holman who is assistant in the Christian education program of the church.

Mrs. Hicks, a resident of South San Francisco, has done outstanding work in the Christian Education Program of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church. She has been the superintendent of the junior high Sunday School department, which enrolls 87 students with an average attendance of 50. It has been her practice to visit the home of each enrolled student once every three months to explain and leave the parent-teacher quarterly lesson magazines. She has had to divide the growing Sunday department into two separate sessions, 9:30 and 11 a.m., and has been the leader for both sessions. Also, she leads local Vacation Church School sessions for junior high youth as well as attending area Presbyterian Summer Camps as a teacher and counsellor.

The Rev. Herbert Tweedie, local pastor, declared that Mrs. Hicks "is an outstanding example of a parent who is concerned that youth receive a thorough religious education as well as a secular education." She represents one of forty teachers of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church as well as teachers of other local Christian churches who voluntarily prepare and present religious instruction to hundreds of children and youth every Sunday.

+ TEEN TALK +

By Joe Bavaresco

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I have a boy friend who is always feeling sorry for himself and always wants sympathy from me. He is always complaining about something. What can I do? I love him, but this one fault is bugging me.
L. Y.

Dear L.Y.:

I realize you don't want to break up with him, but sometimes we must do things we don't want to do. Tell your boy friend how you feel, then explain that if his complaining doesn't stop he will end up complaining about how lonely he is because you won't be dating him until he grows up.

Remind him of the man who always complained about not having nice shoes until he saw a man with no feet. Remind him also that no matter how bad off we think we are, there's always someone near by a lot worse off. Whenever you start feeling sorry for yourself, visit a handicapped children's hospital in your area. As the man said who had one foot off the cliff and the other on a banana peel . . . "You think you got troubles!"

Dear Mrs. Bavaresco:

I read your Easter column about being thankful for what we have and I agree. You talked of blind and crippled teenage girls and boys. I'm very lucky in many ways. I can never be a doctor. I don't have enough brains, but I would like to help these teenagers in any way I can. Do you have any suggestions? I have a lot of spare time to donate.
Ruth H.

Dear Ruth H.:

Thank you for your thoughtfullness. Yes, there surely is a lot you can do. Handicapped hosptials are always begging for teenage help, and some of the hospitals pay; some of the hospitals can't afford to pay. To teenagers who help without pay, there is pay beyond words. A thank you from a crippled child means more than a paycheck for services. I visited a handicapped hospital last week run by Mrs. Pomeroy, a woman dedicated to helping the handicapped, young and old. Some days she puts in eighteen hours a day. Sometimes she works seven days a week. Mrs. Pomeroy has done this for eight years. Here comes the shocker. She does this free. She gets no salary of any kind. This is an example of the kind of people there are in this world. So teenagers, call your hospital in your area and tell them you are interested in helping the unfortunate; and I'm sure they will welcome you with open arms.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am sixteen years old. I have been dating a girl we will call Ann for two months steady. We have dated every weekend eight weeks straight. I really like Ann very much. She is fifteen years old and says her parents don't want her to go steady. Do you feel this is wrong? Are we ready to go steady? In our own way, we are in love. Isn't that all that matters; a guy and girl in love?

Dear Kids:

No, I don't feel it is wrong to go steady. If you enjoy each other's company and are fond of each other, why should you date anyone else? If both of you feel the same way, it's silly to waste time with anyone else, as long as you don't become too serious and start talking of running away and getting married this young, but since you do feel the way you do, I would definitely explain to her parents how you feel. In many cases, going steady is the best thing that can happen to two people. It helps to make them mature and also gives them a feeling of being needed. Yes, I am for it.

Thought for the week: "More things are bought with prayer than this world dreams of."

RAMS NAIL DOWN THIRD IN SSF EASTER TOURNEY

Westmoor nailed down third place in the South San Francisco Easter tournament by scoring three runs in the top half of the seventh inning with two outs to defeat Santa Rosa, 5-3, last Saturday.

Ironically, the Rams beat the tourney winners, Balboa, in an earlier practice game, and the second place San Mateo nine the previous week in loop play.

The Rams went into the top of the seventh inning behind 3-2 against Santa Rosa. Ed Walthard pinch hit and walked. Things looked dark for Red Losberger's crew as both Terry Christman and Billy Hix flew out. Rich Morales found daylight in right-centerfield for a double that scored Walhard with the tying marker.

Jim Heick followed with a line shot that went through the outfielders for a home run. Christman pitched the last 1 ⅓ innings to get credit for the win. He allowed half of the four hits. Bob Goodwin walked and struck out four while allowing two hits before Terry took over.

The Rams had seven hits in all. Losberger let some of his second stringers see action by starting three bench warmers.

BAL BEATS RAMS

Balboa ripped Westmoor's chances of gaining the final tilt by tripping the local team, 5-4, with a run in the final inning last Wednesday.

Don Katona's wildness along with three errers led to the downfall, though Christman was charged with the loss.

Katona walked five and hit two batters. Rip Talavera started things for the Bucs off Christman in the last frame. Talavera singled and took second as Billy Hix scooped up Jim Pollion's sacrifice bunt but threw it into the dirt at second. Don Kunkle sharply singled to drive in the decider.

Barry Krohn had a good day at the plate, knocking all four runs. He homered in the fourth inning with Tom McHugh and Bill Dougherty on base and singled in the fifth with the same two runners on, McHugh scoring the run.

The Rams had 9 hits to the Bucs 7.

RAMS DOWN SERRA

Serra had won 7 of 8 ball games and three shut-outs of their first four league games. Pete Cocconi, had two of the three blankings, but the Rams showed he had to do more than just throw his glove on the field to get the win.

Christman battled in four runs and McHugh two while Krohn held the Serra nine to four hits and a 6-0 whitewashing.

The game was switched from Alta Loma to Balboa Park being the former was "too muddy to play in." McHugh could have shouted "here's mud in your eye" as he belted Cocconi's fourth inning serve for 365 feet and an all base tagger.

Morales led off the sixth inning with his first of three singles. He stole second and scored on Christman's double to right. McHugh's single tallied Christman.

Walks to Dougherty and Hix along with a single by Morales loaded the bases with two outs in the seventh. Christman stopped to the occasion by harnessing a triple to clean the sacks.

Losberger was most pleased as the Rams got at least one hit in every inning, collecting 10 in all. Krohn walked four while five took third strikes.

Morales was the outstanding hitter for the Rams during the three game series. He collected 7 hits in 12 at bats. In addition, his over-all batting average is .404 while he has made but two errors in 16 games.

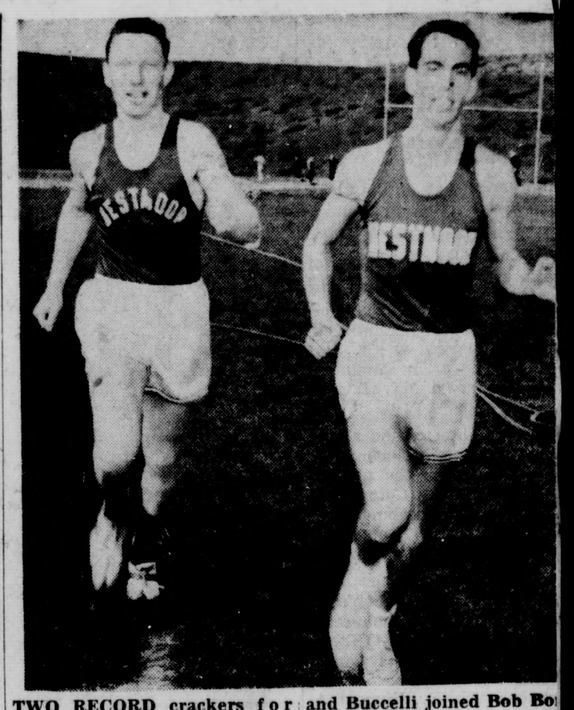
Losberger will throw either Katona, Christman or Goodwin against Capuchino this Friday at Westmoor's diamond.

MORALES, McHUGH SELECTED TO ALL-STAR NINE

Westmoor placed two baseballers on the South San Francisco Invitational team, Rich Morales and Tom McHugh gaining the honors as the coaches' picks.

Shortstop Morales was a unanimous choice due to his clouting .583, 7 for 12, during the three games he played in. Outfielder McHugh smacked an even .400, 4 for 10.

Other Peninsula Leaguers honored were San Mateo's first baseman Woody Knapp and second baseman Roy Kodakari. Host team South San Francisco did not place any on the first team.



TWO RECORD crackers for Westmoor are track captain George Herbst and Jim Buccelli. The duo joined Jim Sershen and Jim Strain (not pictured) to set a Peninsula League mile relay mark of 3:28.9 to eclipse last year's mark of 3:32.7, also set by Westmoor. In addition, Herbst and Buccelli joined Bob Bo and Pat Russo to set a new Cerrito relay mark in the m for Class B trackmen at 3:3 Herbst, a senior, has clock 50.6 in the quarter mile wh Buccelli, a 15-year-old so has sped to a 2:00.9 in the h mile. STARTED FIRES, NOW HE PUTS THEM OUT: Gene Klingler, a fireman here for the past year and a half, used to start quite a few fires of his own with a 'heavy' bat. Gene helped knock down fences at Seals Stadium in 1951, '52, and part of '55. He played with the San Francisco Seals (remember them?) having his best year in 1952 when he hit .260. His best season was with Lewistown, Idaho of the Northwest League when he sent many pitchers to the showers with a .344 average. His predictions for this year's races? Milwaukee first, the Giants second and Los Angeles third. He votes for the Chicago Cubs as dark horse candidates. It's the Pale Hose in the American League and Gene claims he doesn't tend this way because of his current affiliation with the Daly City "hose."

CALL IN CHIEF PETROCCHI: Postmaster Vince Murphy said that the softballers in the 8, 9, 10-year-old group really take their play seriously. Vince had to get out photostat copies of his roster and birth certificates so his young club wouldn't have to forfeit. Next thing you know, Police Chief Roland Petrocchi will have to be fingerprinting the lads everytime they steal a base .

MAN, THAT'S A BLAST: John Cottardi, Westlaker on Southgate avenue and Hillside Market softball performer, says he can "drive one over any centerfield wall." All right, now get out of the car and try it with a bat from home plate.

IN DEFENSE OF THE LONG BALL: Giants Manager Bill Rigney said he sat Bob Schmidt on the bench last year 'cause the big fella didn't hit the long ball. Statistics disprove the mgr's claim. Schmidt in 181 at bats clouted 5 homers. Bonafide long ball hitter Willie Kirkland banged 22 homers in 463 trips to the plate. Carrying out the long hand, in short hand, if Schmidt would have long-legged to the plate as many times as Willie short-legged would have hit about 15 four basers. That is only 7 behind, and then, too, he would have had Johnny Antonelli's "private" jet stream in his favor for more.

KEEP CANDID JIMMY: Jim Davenport, Giants third baseman makes a big impression with his candidness. A couple years back he told a group of aspiring baseballers about the Giants. Lately, we keep hearing of how St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Leon Wagner's fielding is improving. When Jim made his speech, Wagner was still with the Giants. Davvy said, "Wagner is a solid hitter, but you could grab someone walking on the street and hand him a glove and the man would be a better fielder." The publicity man who was accompanying Jim on the tour turned four different colors of red. However, it's refreshing to meet someone that doesn't mince words like a hamburger grinder.

Ex-Detroit Chain Man To Coach Oceana's Cagers

Richard N. Burt, 27, will take over the reins as head basketball coach at Oceana's afternoon sessions at Westmoor next fall.

Burt was signed by the Detroit Tigers when he graduated from Castlemont High School in Oakland. He played for Tiger chain teams in 1950-51 and in 1954. He attended Diablo Valley College and graduated from San Francisco State. He completed his graduate work at the University of California.
